8. Intelligence:

a. Preoperational Intelligence Information

(1) Elements of the 1st and 2d Bn of the 274th VC Regt are believed dispersed in the area of operation; it is possible some elements of the 2d Bn are located vic YS1179. The 3rd Bn is unlocated but probably south of Rt 1. LRRP on 1 Dec 67 reported an occupied base camp center of mass vic YS292835. On 8 Dec 67 vic YS30835, LRRP engaged a VC squad dressed in black trousers and light colored shirts armed with AK-47's. A LRRP engaged an unknown size VC force vic YS297832 on 2 Jan 68. Analysis of available intelligence indicate the VC are probably company/platoon locations with center of masses vic YS318845; YS285865; YS270895. (This follows the pattern indicated company locations are separated approximately 150 to 250 meters apart and 2 to 4 kilometers between battalions and regimental Headquarters. II FFORCEV PERINREP 46).

(2) Strengths and Weaknesses:

(a) The 274th Regt is strengthened by its knowledge of the terrain and by its complete control of the hinter land.

(b) The VC are able to disperse their installations and personnel widely because of the dense concealment offered by dense forested areas, yet concentrate rapidly on a well developed trail system to accomplish a mission.

(c) However, the VC are vulnerable to massive allied fire power. Order of Battle research indicates that the estimated strength of the 1st Bn, 274th VC Regt is 300. According to PW's captured by the FOMR, the strength of the 1st Bn, 274th Regt is approximately 150. If the regiment has been in the Hat Dich since August, malaria has probably weakened a high percentage of personnel. The rigors of jungle living are not generous and morale is probably low, making the enemy vulnerable to an aggressive PSYOPS Program.

b. Enemy Capabilities:

(1) The enemy can:

(a) Attack friendly forces entering the area with elements of 2 battalions supported by the appropriate share of Regimental Artillery and 81/82mm mortars.

SUBJECT: Combat Operations After Action Report (MACV/RCS/J3/J2)

(b) Reinforce within 24 - 36 hours with the D445 Bn and 3rd Bn, 274th Regt.

(c) Defend critical base areas with available forces.

(d) Avoid contact with friendly units yet remain in the area of operation.

(e) Attempt to withdraw from the area of operations.

(2) Analysis and Discussion:

(a) Attack: with forces available is unlikely because the concentration of force necessary to attack would present a lucrative target to artillery and airstrikes. An attack is unlikely to occur unless friendly forces present a target of opportunity in a vulnerable location: ie, an isolated company/platoon position. The attack would probably commence between 2400H and 0200H as a night assault against a perimeter.

(b) Reinforce: Historically, reinforcement of engaged units with other VC forces in the area is unlikely and is not practiced.

(c) Defense: Other than delay or harassment is not likely because of the vulnerability to massed artillery fires and close airstrikes. If trapped or threatened by encirclement the VC will attempt to break out by night assault between 2400 and 0300H.

(d) Withdraw: to the east or northeast.

c. Conclusions: The VC will use harrassing attacks, mines and booby traps to delay reconnaissance in force operations and avoid significant contact with US units in the area.

d. Weather and Terrain: During the operation, weather had no significant impact on military operations. Terrain hampered friendly movement and made maneuverability difficult. The trails cleared by the engineers throughout the area, alleviated the situation considerably, especially for mechanized and cavalry units.

e. Significant Events

(1) 110850 A/2-47 vic YS240954, destroyed 1 homemade mine rigged for either command or pressure detonation.

(2) 110905 A/2-47 vic YS230854, APC detonated 1 pressure type mine, consisting of 4 x 81mm mortar rounds. Only one round detonated and the remaining 3 were destroyed in place. There were no casualties or damage.

(62) 201356 A/2-39 vic YS264887, made contact with 4 - 7 VC. VC armed with AK-47's and Carbines. Contact broke immediately. Searched area and destroyed 1 hut. There were no US casualties; VC losses unknown.

f. Conclusions: Pre-intelligence reports were substantiated by various contacts with the enemy. The two base camps uncovered attested to the fact that the area was used by the VC as an important focal point for their activity. Most probably the area is a coordinating point for logistical operations and troop movements to other areas (RSSZ and Phuoc Tuy Province). This is verified by the construction of the bunkers. The bunkers generally had no firing ports and were very well protected against artillery or airstrikes. The VC also did not engage superior Allied Forces but rather dispersed throughout the area and escaped. The attack on B/2-39 on 12 Jan 68 was probably a rear action to cover the withdrawal of the VC units to the west and north, and then north to the northern part of Long Thanh District, across Hwy 1 and into the Cong Thanh District. The action disrupted the VC operations in the area, and especially their ability to launch offensive operations in that area. The VC need space and time to effectively operate. To interfere with either one is to severely limit their activity. The VC will probably return to this area but periodic Allied Offensive efforts will keep them off balance.

g. Mission: The 1st Bde, in close coordination and cooperation with 1st ATF, attacks at 111200H Jan 68 to locate and destroy elements of the 274th VC Main Force Regiment operating in the eastern portion of AO AKRON.

10. Concept of Operation:

(a) During the period 11-21 Jan 68, the 1st Brigade conducts Operation AKRON V in four phases.

(b) Maneuver:

(1) Phase I - TF 2-39 and TF 2-47 (M) move by air and motor march during the morning of 11 January 68 to assembly areas vic LD in central AO AKRON. TF 2-47 (M) establishes a screening/blocking position along Engineer trail with team 3-5 Cav in eastern AO AKRON on Engineer trail NLT 111200H January 68.

(2) Phase II - At 111200H, TF's 2-47 (M) and 2-39 conduct reconnaissance in force to the east through the morning of 13 January 1968 to locate and destroy elements of the 274th VC Main Force Regiment and other unidentified VC/NVA elements, to sweep objectives to the east in zone and to drive fleeing VC/NVA elements against blocking positions established by 1st ATF and team 3-5 Cav.

(3) Phase III - During the morning of 18 January, the 2-39 Inf is AML extracted and reinserted at Binh Son Airstrip. The Bn conducts reconnaissance in force through the morning of 21 Jan to the southeast to locate and destroy unidentified VC/NVA elements, working toward a blocking position established along the Engr Trail by TF 2-47 Inf (M).

(4) Phase IV - TF 2-47 (M) moves by motor march to AO FINGERS (northeast corner of AO DENVER) for further reconnaissance in force operations. TF 2-39 is AML extracted from Engr Trail and reinserted in AO FINGERS for further reconnaissance in force operations.

11. EXECUTION:

11 Jan: TF 2-39th Inf conducted airmobile assaults on LZ SCREW-DRIVER vic YS223834 with A Company and B Company commencing 110658H. BN. HQ, Co E, A Btry 1-11th Arty, and Co B 2-47th Inf (M) conducted motor march from Camp Martin Cox along RVN Route #15 to FSB GREEN vic YS225804 displacing to and closing FSB NAILS vic YS275804 at 1400H. Co A, upon securing LZ SCREWDRIVER, conducted S&D opns, north and became OPCON to 2-47th Inf (M). Co B, upon insertion at LZ SCREWDRIVER, conducted S&D opns east at 1209H. Co B engaged 12 VC at YS280837 with SA and AW fire; there were 1 US WIA (dusted off at 1350H) and negative VC casualties. Co B, at 1437H, discovered and destroyed one VC bunker 1½ meters deep x 2 meters long x 1 meter wide located vic YS178836. Co B, at 2133H vic YS282838, came under mortar attack; 2210H received ground attack from all directions with heaviest attack coming from NE; mortar attack also continuing; 2330H elements report VC massing fires from NL. US casualties and VC casualties unknown as of 2330H. Co B supported by LFT, Arty and USAF Dragon Ships. Co B engaged an estimated force of 6 VC at 1605H located vic YS238240; there were two US WIA (one dusted off at 1731H) and negative VC casualties. Co C, upon securing LZ SAW, conducted S&D opns northeast with negative contact. Co E and Co B 2-47th Inf (M) secured FSB NAILS; upon entering FSB NAILS at 1105H, the element received one round of RPG fire from an unknown size VC force. The VC were engaged with SA and AW fire; there were negative US or VC casualties. Co B 2-47th Inf (M), at 1300H, found and destroyed one VC mine consisting of 5 each 82mm HE mortar rounds vic YS297817. TF 2-47th Inf (M) conducted motor march from Camp Martin Cox along RVN Route #15 to FSB GREEN vic YS-200835 commencing 110516H with BN HQ, Co A (-), Co C and B Battery 1-11th Arty. Upon securing FSB GREEN, the BN conducted S&D opn east to FSB HAMMER located vic YS267872. Co A discovered and destroyed 1 mine with dual Detonation System (com and pressure) at 0855H vic YS240854. Co A also detonated a mine consisting of 4 each 82mm HE rds by running over it with a M113 APC at 0905H vic YS280846; there were negative US casualties and negative damage to the APC. Co B OPCON to TF 2-39th Inf. Co C at 1250H, found and destroyed a VC mine consisting of 3 each 82mm HE mortar rounds Vic YS297817, secured and patrolled vic FSB HAMMER. Co A (-) 4-39th Inf conducted an airmobile assault into LZ PLIERS vic YS341871 and became OPCON to A/3-5th Cav. A/3-5th Cav conducted motor march from Xuan Loc to vic LZ PLIERS; secured LZ PLIERS; assumed OPCON Co A (-) 4-39th Inf; screened in zone and became OPCON to TF 2-47th Inf (M). Scout Platoon secured 2-47th Inf HQ with negative VC contact.

12 Jan: TF 2-39th Inf continued search and destroy operations in zone with Co B and Co C; regained OPCON of Co A 2-39th Inf from TF 2-47th Inf (M); conducted an airmobile assault into LZ SCREWDRIVER (YS223834) with Co B 2-47th Inf (M); and secured FSB NAIL with Co E. Co A 2-39th Inf conducted search and destroy opn south from their RON position commencing 0730H to link up with Co B 2-39th Inf at YS282838. At 1425H, Co A engaged three VC vic YS284842 resulting in negative US casualties and two VC KIA (body count), one AK-47 rifle and one M79 grenade launcher. Co B 2-39th Inf (NOTE: Continued from 1st Bde SITREP Period 110001H-112400H Jan 68) reported that VC had broken contact at 0010H. At 0248H, VC commenced second attack against Co B, breaking contact at 0610H. Co B sustained 46 US WIA (31 dusted off) and negative US KIA. There were negative VC casualties. Co C conducted search and destroy opns north to link up with Co B 2-39th Inf vic YS222838. At 1645H, Co C found 300 lbs of rice vic YS279837. Co B 2-47th Inf (M) conducted airmobile assault on LZ SCREWDRIVER and conducted search and destroy operations east to link up with Co B 2-39th Inf. At 0900H Co B discovered a VC base camp with 55 bunkers vic YS279837 and captured 12 mortar rounds, 12 hand grenades, and 1000 lbs of rice. Aero Scts D/3-5th Cav, while supporting TF 2-39th Inf engaged 3 VC at 1435H vic YS2915 resulting in 1 VC KIA (BC).

was evidence of recent repair and construction. During the search of the base camp area there was a total of 14 VC KIA found in graves and 2 VC KIA found hanging in trees. The following are items of VC equipment found in the base camp: one combat serviceable 60mm mortar, 3,000 rounds of 7.62mm ammunition, 3,200 lbs of rice, 4 lbs of salt, 5 lbs dried shrimp, 5 gal soy-bean oil, 1 package of medicine, 5 lbs of documents, 4 RPG rounds, 2 RPG launchers, 25 Chicom grenades, 4 AK-47 magazines, 28 US 81mm mortar rounds, 67 60mm mortar fuses, 5 RPG propellant charges, 1 TA312 telephone, 1 US type claymore mine, and 3 pick mallets. All elements reported finding evidence of a hasty withdrawal of the VC forces. There were numerous articles of bloody clothing found in the base camp area and several improvised stretchers containing blood stains. A thorough debriefing of unit commanders and element leaders determined through eye witness reports that a minimum of 31 VC were killed or wounded during the contact within the VC base camp area. Companies A, B, and C 2-39th Inf and Co B 2-47th Inf (M) remained over night vic YS-289840. Co E continued to secure TF 2-39th Inf CP/FSB NAILS. TF 2-39th Inf was supported with one airstrike vic YS297836 resulting in 4 VC bunkers destroyed, 20 meters of trench destroyed, and 10 VC bunkers damaged. Resupply of the elements operating within the VC base camp area was accomplished by the 1st Bde Aviation section utilizing two OH-23 helicopters. Due to the dense jungle area and time factor only an LZ large enough to land an OH-23 could be cleared. The 1st Bde Aviation Section flew 154 sorties in 14 hours carrying 79 passengers and 33,300 lbs of equipment and supplies. The OH-23 carried in supplies and passengers and back-hauled captured VC equipment and supplies. TF 2-47th Inf (M) conducted search and destroy operations southwest along the ridge line (vic YS306857 to vic YS295845). Co A swept south to vic YS300347 with negative VC contact. A troop 3-5th Cav swept southwest to vic YS307850 receiving sniper fire at 1145H from an unknown size VC force vic YS378867; the element returned fire resulting in negative US casualties and unknown VC casualties. Co A (-) 4-39th Inf continued to maintain screening/blocking positions along the Engr Trail on the northern boundary of the AO. At 1145H an element of A troop escorting the AVL to a crossing site vic YS346877 received an RPG, small arms and automatic weapons fire; the element returned fire resulting in two US WIA (2 dusted off) and one M113 destroyed. VC casualties were unknown. At 1525H, A troop reported finding a partially destroyed and unserviceable Mauser Rifle Model 92 vic YS-327877. Recon Platoon 2-47th Inf (M) continued to secure TF 2-47th CP/FSB HAMMER, provided security for resupply convoy, and supported by Engr squad, returned and destroyed 10 bunkers discovered on 13 Jan, vic YS271849.

15 Jan: TF 2-39th Inf continued Opn AKRON V. The TF continued to explore and destroy the large bunker complex discovered vic YS287837 and conducted search and destroy ops in zone. Co A and Co C continued to search and destroy vic of the VC base camp area. There were an additional 45 bunkers found in the area for an accumulative total of 100 bunkers found and searched in the base camp area. The following VC equipment and supplies were discovered: 1 RPG launcher, 2 hand grenades, 6 81mm mortar rounds, 339 rounds of AK-47 small arms, 600 lbs of rice, 100 lbs of medical supplies, 2 lbs of documents. There were also several blood trails and 5 VC KIA (body count) were found. The VC had been killed by small arms fire and were discovered unburied. At 1210H, Co C received small arms fire from an unknown size VC force; fire was returned and the VC broke contact by throwing a hand grenade resulting in one US slightly wounded and one VC KIA (body count). At 1546H, Co C discovered 3 graves vic YS301848 containing 3 VC killed by shrapnel. One VC appeared killed within last 12 hours; other bodies appeared two weeks old. At 1605H, the fourth platoon of Co C engaged one VC near the base camp area with small arms fire, resulting in negative US casualties and unknown VC casualties. Co B 2-47th Inf (M) and Co B 2-39th Inf conducted southwest toward FSB NAILS. At 1055H, Co B 2-47th Inf (M) discovered and destroyed one VC improvised mine consisting of two 105mm HE rounds and two 4.2 HE mortar rounds. At 1334H, Co B 2-47th Inf (M) found four VC bodies stripped of equipment near vic YS292832. The VC had been KIA

by artillery. TF 2-39th Inf was supported by four preplanned airstrikes; during one airstrike at 0930H vic YS290850, the fighters received ground fire from an unknown size VC force, resulting in negative US casualties and unknown VC casualties. At 1655H, a UH1D (Jayhawk 764) received small arms fire and force landed vic YS284840 resulting in negative US casualties. The crew was extracted at 1727H. Commencing at 1820H, an element from Co B 2-39th Inf was airmobiled from FSB NAILS to vic of downed UH1D to provide security. The UH1D was extracted by a CH-47 at 1845H. Co B commenced airmobile extraction at 1908H and the last sortie landed at FSB NAILS at 1933H. The extraction mission was accomplished without incident. TF 2-37th Inf (M) continued search and destroy operations east in zone. Co C and Co A 2-47th Inf (M) conducted S&D ops east to vic YS335870. At 1050H, Co A discovered 3 VC tunnels vic YS334871; the tunnels were caved in and there was negative signs of recent VC activity. Co B 2-47th Inf (M) remained OFCON to TF 2-39th Inf. At 0859H, Co A (-) 4-39th Inf commenced airmobile extraction from PZ PLIERS YS332874; at 0959H the last sortie departed PZ PLIERS; and Co A (-) returned to the control of TF 4-39th Inf (OPN RILEY) at Camp Martin Cox. Troop A 3-5th Cav was released OPCON from TF 2-47th Inf (M) at 1300H and conducted motor march to Camp Blackhorse. TF 2-47th Inf (M) reported that a UH1D received 15 rounds small arms fire while landing at FSB HAMMER; fire was returned with 50 cal machine gun and mortar fire. There were negative US casualties or equipment damage. Recon Platoon 2-47th Inf (M) sighted 1 VC at 1400H vic YS268873. The VC was pursued for several hundred meters with negative results.

16 Jan: TF 2-39th Inf completed searching the bunker complex and continued search and destroy operations in zone. Co A assisted by Co C completed the search of the bunker area and swept east from the bunker complex commencing at 1215H. Co A discovered a cache of 1,100 lbs of rice, two RPG rounds and one lb of documents at 1354H vic YS292839. It was necessary to destroy the rice cache because the thick triple canopy jungle prevented cutting of a LZ and the area to which the rice would have to be carried for evacuation would have prevented the element from accomplishing a thorough sweep of their objective area. Co B 2-39th Inf conducted a sweep north of FSB NAILS and returned to remain over night. Co C assisted Co A in the complete search of the base camp area and then swept east to remain over night with Co A vic YS303835. Co C reported finding one VC booby trapped chicom grenade and one VC bunker at 1317H vic YS293839. The bunker and grenade were destroyed. Co B 2-47th Inf (M) (OFCON to TF 2-39) conducted S&D operations northeast from FSB NAILS to vic YS317830 and returned to FSB NAILS to remain over night. At 1155H an outpost from Co B spotted 2 VC and engaged them with small arms fire vic YS305820. The outpost pursued the VC for several hundred meters resulting in negative US casualties and VC casualties unknown. Co E continued to secure FSB NAILS. TF 2-47th Inf (M) conducted S&D ops to the south with Co A and Co C to vic of LZ FILE YS287810. Co A commenced its sweeping operation south at 0902H. At 1128H, vic YS335875, Co A was unsuccessfully attacked by a VC ambush. The ambush was initiated by the VC firing an RPG at the rear of the lead M113 APC. The RPG missed the M113, exploded and caused only minor dents and scratches to the rear of the M113. Fire was returned by Co A and Co C moved from vic LZ PLIERS to reinforce Co A. Enroute Co C also received RPG and small arms fire. Co C arrived at the ambush site at 1131H, engaging the VC with small arms, automatic weapons and 50 cal machine gun fire causing the VC to break contact and flee to the west. The results of the contact were 2 US slightly wounded (treated by medic and released) and VC casualties were unknown. At 1407H, Co A found and destroyed 3 105mm Arty rounds. At 1125, TF 2-47th Inf (M) resupply convoy enroute to FSB HAMMER and escorted by Recon platoon (-), received small arms fire vic YS262865; fire was returned and the VC broke contact. There were negative US casualties; VC casualties were unknown. At 1045H, a patrol from Recon platoon made contact with 7 VC, engaging them with small arms fire vic YS270875. The VC broke contact and fled to the northeast. Artillery was fired into the area and at 1125H, Recon platoon (-) joined the patrol with combat tracker teams and pursued the VC. Debriefing of the patrol concluded that there were two VC seen hit by small arms fire, however, a search of the area revealed only blood trails.

17 Jan: TF 2-39th Inf continued to conduct search and destroy operations east in zone. Co A followed by Co C (RRF) conducted a sweep east from vic YS303835 to clear objective vic YS314836. At 1145H, Co A found and destroyed one bunker vic YS313833 and at 1327H vic YS315837 destroyed 3 bunkers. Co A and Co C remained over night vic YS312822. Co B conducted search and destroy operations northeast of FSB NAILS to vic YS294827 and returned to FSB NAILS with negative VC contact and remained over night. Co E continued to provide security for FSB NAILS. Co E 2-47th Inf (M) (OPCON to TF 2-39th Inf) conducted search and destroy operations northeast to vic YS294827 and returned to FSB NAILS with negative VC contact and remained over night. TF 2-47th Inf (M) continued to conduct search and destroy operations west and southwest in zone. Co A and Co C conducted search and destroy ops southwest from their night location to vic YS325884 at 0955H. Co C's point M113 hit an improvized 82mm mortar HE pressure detonated mine vic YS338845. There were negative casualties or equipment damage. At 1020H Co A found and destroyed three VC bunkers vic YS332844. At 1145H, Co A found and destroyed a VC base camp containing 10 bunkers vic YS328837. Also found in the VC base camp were expended 50 cal brass, C-ration cans, three anti-personnel mines, a Chicom claymore mine, and 100 rounds of 5.56 M16 small arms ammo. At 1430H, Co C discovered a VC base camp containing 49 bunkers vic YS325834, ten were new and the others old and unserviceable. The ten new bunkers were destroyed. The following equipment and supplies were found in the base camp area: 3 kitchens with pots and pans; 1 expended round of AK-47 ammo and 10 rounds of unexpended AK-47 small arms ammo. At 1530H a patrol from Recon platoon made contact with an unknown size VC force in a VC base camp located vic YS268882. In the ensuing fire fight the patrol sustained one KIA, one WIA dusted off, and three WIA with minor wounds (treated and returned to duty). Artillery fire and an immediate air strike were placed on the base camp resulting in 10 bunkers destroyed, 12 bunkers damaged and two hundred meters of trench destroyed.

18 Jan: TF 2-39th Inf initiated Phase III of Opn AKRON V by conducting an airmobile assault on the BINH SON air strip (YS429916) and conducted search and destroy ops south in zone. Co A spear-headed the assault, lifting off from LZ vic YS312822 at 0804H, followed by Co B 2-39th Inf and Co C. Co C completed the airmobile assault at 1140H. Upon securing the LZ, Co A, Co B and Co C with Recon platoon attached swept south in zone and established a three company night location vic YS247907. Co B, 2-47th Inf (M) secured the PZ for Co A, Co B and Co C; provided security for the motor movement of TF 2-39th Inf (-) from FSB NAILS to FSB GREY (YS212937). Co B was returned to the control of TF 2-47th Inf (M) at 1340H. Upon being released from OPCON TF 2-39th Inf, Co B established a night location at LONG THANH (YS138921) and provided one platoon security force for the 8 inch Arty Battery located vic YS137918. Co B assumed the mission of rapid reaction force for the defense of LONG THANH RF/PF outpost. TF 2-47th Inf (M) initiated phase III OPN AKRON V establishing blocking positions along the Engineer Trail from vic YS260860 to YS290888. Co A and Co C departed their night location at 0817H. Co A established blocking positions west of FSB HAMMER, screened and conducted roadrunner ops in zone. Co C established blocking positions along the Engineer trail vic YS290890 west to vic YS282-885. At 1200H, Co C reported receiving 5 to 6 rounds of semi-automatic small arms fire from a sniper vic YS290890. Co C returned fire with small arms, automatic weapons and 82mm mortar. There were negative US casualties and VC casualties were unknown. At 1825H, Co C engaged one VC vic YS275885, with M79 and small arms fire resulting in negative US casualties; VC casualties were unknown. Recon platoon, TF 2-47th Inf (M) conducted local patrols north of FSB HAMMER and provided convoy security between Hwy 15 and FSB HAMMER. Co A and Co C remained overnight in their blocking positions. At 1305H, vic FSB HAMMER an OH-23 received 2 rounds of small arms fire. There were negative equipment damage or casualties.

g. Graves Registration: GR support was provided by the 9th S&T Battalion located at Bearcat.

14. Civic Actions/Psychological Operations: There were no civic action projects conducted that were directly related to Operation AKRON V. During Operation AKRON V, the PSYOP Team, through coordination with S-2 and S-3, flew both loudspeaker and leaflet missions in support of the operation. A first was introduced during the operation. This was the use of 105 artillery shells filled with leaflets. There was a total of 667,600 leaflets disseminated during the operation. Of these, 24,000 were dispersed by means of the 105mm artillery rounds. The themes of the leaflets were: Chieu Hoi Mixture, Chieu Hoi Questions, Scare and Power, Allied Power, Safe Conduct Passes and assorted TET leaflets. There were also two special leaflets developed and printed especially for use against the 274th VC Regiment. The loudspeaker unit of the U-10 aircraft was utilized for a total time of four (4) hours and five minutes. The themes of the tapes were taken from the JUSPAO produced stock. These themes fitted well with the situations encountered. However, the team produced one tape in response to intelligence reports of a resupply effort through the village of Ba Ky. The greatest discovery of the operation, in a PSYOP point of view, was the use of 105mm artillery shells. This gives the timely delivery of propaganda on a particular unit, while they are still in contact with our forces. The only drawback to the shells is that they are prepacked with standard Chieu Hoi Leaflets and Safe Conduct Passes. Special situations still require the use of an aircraft. In a number of instances the aerial dissemination immediately preceded either an air strike or an artillery barrage. Although not planned, the psychological advantages are tremendous. The leaflets are no sooner on the ground than the attack is upon them. This brings a real sense of credibility to all our propaganda.

15. Commander's Evaluation: Operation AKRON V succeeded in locating and destroying elements of the 274th VC Main Force Regiment as prescribed in the original mission. The absence of the FIRST BRIGADE in AO RILEY, and specifically AO AKRON, during the Operation SANTA FE allowed the VC/NVA elements to improve fortifications, stockpile supplies and move about freely. Troop D, 3-5th Cav performed admirably in their overwatch mission (Operation AKRON IV) and gathered valuable intelligence, but they did not possess the ground troops to curtail VC movements and operations. It was evident from pre-operational intelligence that AO AKRON had been used as a refuge and way station on a major north-south supply route. This route lead from the RUNG SAT Special Zone northeast across Hwy 1 through the HAT DICH area and north across Hwy 1 into War Zone D and it was active during November and December. Movements were also traced east from the HAT DICH area to the MAY TAO Secret Zone. The airmobile and ground assaults of the 2-39th Inf and the 2-47th Inf (M) respectively, and the sweep east toward the 1st ATF/3-5th Cav block, trapped several elements of the 274th Regt. This was verified by the moderately heavy contacts and enemy delaying actions encountered in base camp locations. The contacts succeeded in fragmenting the VC/NVA elements, eliminating several of their coveted base locations, and sharply deterred their plans. The major contributing factors that allowed 1st Brigade elements to close with the enemy were the surprise achieved by the insertion on LZ SCREWDRIVER of an Infantry battalion without preparatory fires and the deliberate late positioning of forces, especially artillery. Should this operation or one of similar characteristics be conducted again a few adjustments could be warranted. With the same number of maneuver elements available it might be advisable to sweep and block a smaller area. Greater concentration would undoubtedly increase the degree of success achieved on this type of operation. Combining Infantry, both US and Australian, Armored Cavalry and Mechanized Infantry, with cross attachments wherever practical, proved to be tactically effective and feasible. Rapport with the 1st ATF was reinforced by close cooperation and coordination during both planning and execution phases. Operation AKRON V contributed much to the further welding of FWMAF. The forces participating in Operation AKRON V did much to accelerate the neutralization of the HAT DICH area as a VC haven.
